

CAXTON ON THE MOVE:
GLASS CURTAIN GALLERY, COLUMBIA COLLEGE CHICAGO
A CURATED TOUR AND PRIVATE DINNER

Let's Do It: Twenty-three Years of Book and Paper The Center for Book and Paper Arts, 1994–2017

Brad Freeman, Aleatoric Collaboration, 2019

Let's Do It presents newly commissioned projects by artists affiliated with the Center for Book and Paper Arts—alum, of sorts—alongside artwork, photographs, and documents from the Center's archives. In siting the past alongside the present, we can form a picture of what a book and paper practice looks like today.

From artists' books to installation, both newly commissioned projects and archival materials will reveal the spectrum of practices that thrived at the Center and that were presented through exhibitions, residencies, and publishing. It was through these activities that the Center made great strides in not only the "centering" of book, paper, and print from the margins of contemporary art, but also in helping audiences better understand these practices and mediums aesthetically and historically.

Curated by: Jessica Cochran with research support from Julia Arredondo

New Projects by: Hannah Batsel with Audrey Niffenegger, Ben Blount, Brad Freeman, Fata Morgana Press, Krista Franklin, and Melissa Hilliard Potter

Additional Works by: Jeff Abell, Laura Anderson Barbata, Alex Borgen, Johanna Drucker, Felipe Ehrenberg, Sheroanawe Hakiwe, Amos Paul Kennedy, Jr., Alison Knowles, Miller & Shellabarger, Cathy Alva Moores, Ayanah Moor, Judith Poirier, Vida Sacic, Buzz Spector, and others.

DETAILS

DATE

Wednesday, October 2, 2019

LOCATION

Glass Curtain Gallery
Columbia College Chicago
1104 South Wabash, First Floor

TIME

Reception 6:00 pm
Curated tour with exhibit curator
Jessica Cochran and Caxtonian artists Hannah Batsel and Audrey
Niffenegger 6:30–7:30 pm
Optional dinner with our hosts to follow immediately

COST

Curated tour is free of charge.
Dinner with wine or beer for $30.
The exhibit curator and our hosts will attend this dinner.

RESTAURANT

Chicago Curry House
899 South Plymouth Court

RSVP

Dinner reservations required by September 27. Space is limited.
Reserve and pre-pay online at <https://caxtonclub.org>,
email jv.everydaydesign@rcn.com or phone 312-266-8825.